

XXIV SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Today's readings speak of God's immeasurable mercy. Forgiveness and compassion are a part of God's character and He wants them to be a part of yours as well. Mercy is forgiveness and compassion in action. To possess this virtue in your life you must first be able to accept mercy, and to forgive yourself when you fall. The way of the disciple and steward is not easy. Knowing that God's mercy never ends allows you to walk the way of discipleship with confidence and patience.

XXV SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

“We cannot serve God and wealth”, says Jesus in today’s Gospel. So then what are we to do? What is the solution to serving two masters when we need money to live? The answer is simple. Good stewardship is making your finances and faith work together. God should come first in how we choose to use our money. Christian stewards share first, save second, and spend third. The needy are also mentioned in today’s readings and God intends that our gifts be shared with them first, not from what we have left over.
